Essay #1: Discuss what Hinduism teaches about evil. Compare and contrast that teaching with the teachings of Buddhism, Taoism, and Confucianism.

This is a formal essay, not a reaction paper or a creative writing paper. Write about the four religions and the topic in the third person (he, she, it, they); do not write about yourself. Be sure to give your essay a title that calls attention to the central theme of the paper—your own personal point of view on these four religions.

The essay is about the religions, not about you.

But the essay will express your understanding of the readings.
